September 23rd 2022: Artist Valentino Dixon Talks About his Drawings, Prison and Golf

Tune in
 Friday at 10 AM Pacific Time/1 PM Eastern Time on VoiceAmerica Variety Channel

Valentino talks about his struggle to adjust to life in prison until he reconnected with his inner passion for art. How he regained his motivation to draw by following his uncle's advice: "if you reclaim your talent, you can reclaim your life." Valentino has been drawing ever since; for more than two decades, he drew from six to ten hours a day.

Valentino Dixon

Born on October 20, 1969, Valentino Dixon grew up in downtown Buffalo. As a child, Valentino was a gifted artist who loved to draw. At the time of his arrest in 1990, Valentino's daughter, Valentina, was six months old. Although Valentina has lived most of her life without a father present, their bond has remained strong, and during his decades in prison she became his strongest advocate. Wrongfully Convicted in 1991 On August 10, 1991, a late-night fight broke out at a gathering outside of Louie's Texas Red Hots restaurant at the intersection of East Delevan and Bailey Avenue in Buffalo, NY. In the ensuing mayhem, Torriano Jackson was shot and killed. Based on an anonymous tip, the police a
